Morgantown Seminary

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Co-educational, Non-sectarian, Preparatory, Teachers', and High School courses. Both Classical and Scientific.

J. ELMER TURNER, PRINCIPAL.

OPENS DECEMBER 30, 1901.

LOCATION.

Morgantown, the county seat of Butler county, is a rapidly growing town of about 7000 inhabitants, situated on an eminence overlooking Green river. It is a thrifty and prosperous town—snug a place as is calculated to stimulate and encourage pupils.

With prices does the Morgantown Seminary point to her pupils as worthy to be compared in scholarship and in culture, with those sent from other schools in south-western Kentucky. Their success is our incentive in urging you to attend this school. It is modern, up-to-date, and thoroughly progressive. Industry shall be our watchword; instruction, thorough and practical; advancement, rapid.

FACULTY.

The Principal, J. Elmer Turner, has taught in Morgantown Seminary more than five years. His qualification and adaptability as an educator are best attested by the hundreds of pupils who have come under his charge.

Prof. David A. Kelley has, through industry, business, and thoroughness in teaching, established the fact that he is eminently fitted for the position he occupies.

At this writing, (Nov. 20) arrangements are not conclusively made for our intermediate teachers. Suffice it to say that one thoroughly fitted for the department will be on duty when the term opens, December 30, 1901.

A NEW FEATURE.

Arrangements are being made for a number of class room lectures by specialists. In this way some subjects of merit for the student to work out will be simplified. For which no extra charge will be made this term.

MUSIC AND ART.

Experienced and competent teachers in town will accommodate any pupils desiring to study Music or Art. Vocal music in school daily.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Prof. D. A. Kelley will be in charge. We assure the public that a more suitable man for this department could not be found in Kentucky. Persons who anticipate placing their children in his care may feel satisfied that the instruction will be thorough and advancement rapid.

EXPENSES.

Tuition in Teachers' or Collegiate courses, five months, $16.00

Tuition in Primary Department, five months 7.50

Tuition payable monthly or satisfactory arrangements in regard to same.

Board in private families, including fuel and lights, per week, $2.00

No incidentals. $50.00 in advance pays board and tuition for the term. $12.50 in advance pays tuition for entire term. To be entitled to discounts, payments must be made during first week of school.

If, for any good reason, a student severs his connection with the school after having paid in advance, the money due him will be refunded.

No reduction in tuition except in cases of protracted sickness.

ADVANTAGES

To be considered in attending school here are:

First. Every teacher has access to the County Teachers' Library, containing over 700 volumes, including works on Psychology, Science, and Art of Teaching, Biology, Zoology, Chemistry, Logic, Chamber's Encyclopaedia, best works of American, French and English writers, besides many books of reference to meet the demands of the most earnest student.

Second. The school is located at the county seat, which has boats almost every day, a stage to the railroad daily, thus securing a daily mail.

Third. School closes May 15, the day before the May examination, thus allowing all pupils to desire to enter same fresh from school, and without cost of transportation.

Fourth. Anyone desiring to take music or art can do so without losing a vacation from school.

Fifth. The sanitary condition of our town is excellent. We challenge any town of like size to show as small a percent of sickness.

Sixth. We fully realize the growing demand for better teachers and will spare no means to make the Teachers' Class the most progressive, thorough, and best that has ever been known in the Green river country.

Seventh. While great importance will be attached to the work, not only of preparing teachers to pass creditable County and State Examinations, but of preparing them for teaching as well, the more advanced and primary work will, in no way, be neglected.

Eighth. Literary Society meets weekly.

Ninth. Morgantown is a prohibition town. No intoxicants being sold in or near the town, insures a moral atmosphere not found in many places.

Tenth. Fifteen minutes daily are devoted to Chapter Exercises. Here all pupils are instructed in morality; true types of manhood and womanhood given. All are requested to attend the church of their choice at least once each Sabbath.

In due we are thoroughly prepared to give our patrons first class advantages in every way. Our prospects for a No. 1 school are indeed bright.

Investigation and correspondence are cheerfully solicited.

CHRISTMAS ON A RANCH.

BY THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

One December, I was out on my ranch, so much so that I was doing that it was within a week of Christmas before we were to take any thought for the Christmas dinner. The winter set in late that year and there had been very little cold weather, but one day the ice on the river had been sufficiently strong to enable us to haul up a wagon load of flour, with enough salt to last through the winter, and very few cans of linned goods to be used at special feasts. We had some bushels of potatoes, the heroic product of a struggle for existence, in which the rest of our garden vegetables had succumbed to drought, frost and grasshoppers, and we also had some wild plums and dried elk venison. But we had no fresh meat, and my day my foreman and I agreed to make a hunt of the morrow.

Accordingly one of the cowboys rode out in the frosty afternoon to fetch in the saddle band from the plateau three miles off, where they were grazing. It was necessary to get to the hunting grounds by 10 o'clock, and it still lacked a couple of hours of dawn when the foreman and I, with a touch of lay and a couple of the buffalo robes, dressed hurriedly and breakfasting on a cup of coffee and some mountain-bread, off we started, jerking our meat, we slipped out to the barn, threw the saddles to the horses and were off.

The air was bitterly chill. The cold had been severe for two days, and the river ice would again be a hindrance. It had already frozen in places, and again I feared that the horses would be covered in powder. I was a little fed the rough ground, and the horses were under the horses. There was no snow, but the ground was brilliantly white with the cold clear air, and our willing horses galloped swiftly across the long bottom on which the ranch house stood, threading their way deftly among the clumps of sprawling sagebrush. A mile off we crossed the river, the ice cracking with noises like pistol shots as our horses picked their way gingerly over it. On the opposite side was a dense jungle of bullberry bushes, and on breaking through this we found ourselves galloping up a long, winding valley which led back many miles into the hills. The oranges and little side ravines were filled with brushwood and groves of situated ash. By this time there was a faint flush of gray in the east, and as we rode silently along we could make out dimly the tracks made by the wild animals as they had passed and repassed in the snow. Several times we dismounted to examine them. A couple of coyotes, possibly frightened by our approach, had trotted and loped up the valley ahead of us, leaving a trail like that of two dogs. The sharper, more delicate footprints of a fox crossed our path, and outside one long patch of brushwood a series of round imprints in the snow betrayed where a bobcat, as plainmen term the small lynx, had been lurking around to try to plop up a rabbit or prairie fowl.

As the dawn reddened and it became light enough to see objects some little way off, we began to skirt around in our saddles and to scan the hill-sides sharply for signs of feeding deer. Hitherto we had seen no deer tracks save inside the bullberry bushes by the river, and we knew that the deer which lived in that impenetrable jungle were cunning white tails and that in such a place they would only be hunted by the aid of a hound. But just before sunrise we came on three lines of heart-shaped footprints in the snow which showed where a mule deer had just crossed a little plain ahead of us. They were walking leisurely, and from the lay of the land we believed we would find them over the ridge, where, as it was a brush-covered, rising to the side of the trail, we stopped the horses just as the sun flamed up, burning a hall of crimson, beyond the snowy waste at our backs. Almost immediately afterward my companion leaped from his horse and raised his rifle, and as he pulled the trigger I saw through the twigs of a brushy thicket on our left the erect, startled head of a young black tail doe as she turned to look at us, her great, milk-like eyes thrown forward.

The bull broke her neck, and she turned a complete somersault down the hill, with a sudden crashing of underbrush told of the flight of her terrified companions. We both laughed and called out "Dinner!" as we sprang down toward her, and in a few minutes she was dressed and hung up by the hind legs on a small ash tree. The entrails and viscera we threw off to one side after carefully poisoning them from a little bottle of strychnine which I had in my pocket. Almost every cattleman carries poison and neglects no chance of leaving out wolf bait, for the wolves are sources of serious loss to the unfenced and unboxed flocks and herds. In this instance we did particularly ravenous because I was but a few days since we had lost a fine yearling heifer. The tracks on the hillside where the carcass lay when we found it told the story plainly. The wolves, two in number, had crept up close before being discovered and then roared down on the astonished heifer almost before she could get fairly started. One brute had been strung her with a snap of his rielike jaws, and then down she was torn open to a twinkling.

No sooner was the sun up than a warm west wind began to blow in our faces. The weather had suddenly changed, and before an hour the snow was beginning to thaw and leave patches of bare ground on the hill-sides. We left our coats with our horses and struck off on foot for a group of high firs, out up by the cedar canons and pines in which we knew the old bucks loved to lie. It was noon before we saw anything more. We lunched at a clear spring, and needed much time, for all we had to do was to drink a draft of icy water and munch a strip of dried venison. Shortly afterward, as we were moving along a hillside with silent caution, we came to a sheer canyon of which the opposite face was broken by little ledges grown up with wind beaten sedars. As we peered over the edge my companion touched my arm and pointed silently to one of the ledges, and instantly I caught the glint of a buck's horns as he lay half behind an old tree trunk. A slight shift of position gave me a fair shot slanting down between his shoulders, and though he struggled to his feet, he did not go fifty yards after receiving the bullet.

This was all we could carry. Leading the horses around, we packed the buck behind my companion's saddle and then rode back by the doe, which I put behind mine. But we were not destined to reach home without a slight adventure. When we got to the river, we rode boldly on the ice, heedless of the thaw, and about midway there was a sudden, tremendous crash, and men, horses and deer were scrambling together in the water amid a splash of freezing ice. However, it was shallow, and no worse result followed than some hard work and a chilly bath. But what cared we? We were returning triumphant with our Christmas dinner.—Philadelphia Times.

An exchange warbles thusly: "The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year. The small boy leaves the swimming hole, the farmer stuffs the steer. The urticaria-trudges off to school, the pellets begin to lay, the preacher gets a move on him, the coal men have their day. The trees put on their summer hue, the grasshopper ascends on high, the little ant his collar bill; the toper call for 336. The lonely church organ laughs in glee, for now his time has come; the girls have appetites, the boys must spend their money; and the meal barrel is empty, and the butcher's short of liver; and the thought of Jay winter makes your spinal column quiver. And Johnny gets his gun and sallies through mud and stable, and shoots an agriculturist's moat and has no end of trouble. The days are full of sunshine and the night are full of frost, and the house is full of stovepipes and half the joints are lost. O, spring time has its drawbacks, but it doesn't have them all; for the worst part of the year is just before the fall."

The New York Herald has lately compiled a list of 3826 millionaires in the United States—that is, one per cent out of every 20,000. And the statistics is that eighty-seven per cent of these made their own fortunes; that only thirteen per cent of them received large fortunes by inheritance, that the same number became rich from the increased value of real estate, that twenty-two per cent made fortunes as manufacturers, sixteen per cent as merchants, twelve per cent by transportation, and ten per cent by banking.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Baltimore, Md., March 25, 1901.

Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in that ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that daily operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the best result would be that the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then, saw your advertisement, accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the deafened ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and best of wishes for your success.

ATTY. GENERAL PRATT

Court Of Appeals Hands Down a Decision Ousting Robt. C. Breckinridge.

All the Democratic Judges Dissented From the Majority Opinion.

(From the Louisville Commercial of Nov. 21, 1901.)

Judge Coffey, in the Court of Appeals, yesterday morning handed down the opinion of the majority of the court reversing the decision of the lower court in the case of C. J. Pratt versus Attorney General Robert C. Breckinridge.

This is one of the famous cases entitled "minor official cases." Mr. Pratt, with Mr. Stone and other minor state officers, were legally elected to the various offices for which they ran on the Republican ticket.

With the exception of Mr. Pratt the cases were appealed to the Court of Appeals and by a political division of four to three, was lost again.

On September 24 the case of Pratt versus Breckinridge was argued before the Court of Appeals, the full court sitting. Ex-Gov. W. O. Bradley and Judge Holm Bruce represented the plaintiff.

In the "minor official case" the question was of the legality of the contest board appointed by the legislature. This decision of the Court of Appeals declares that all the present incumbents of the minor offices are usurpers and only hold their office through fraud.

Judge Pratt is from Madisonville, and has ever been known as a lawyer of the highest integrity and gifted with remarkable legal acumen. The decision involves Clem Williamson and Robt. C. Breckinridge, Jr. Both have been acting as assistants to Judge Breckinridge, and both will lose their places.

I left and left the last year that I ever rise another page to the paper's because there was so many smart folks always ready to make fun of an old person's riddle.

There besides that I haven't felt like riddles and advising other people about their matters an' things when my own matters an' things has been going on destruction so fast.

It is very consoling to know that the Lord chastens those he loves but if it wasn't wicked I sometimes would be tempted to wish that the Lord didn't love me quite so much.

I was settin' a lookin' in the fire an' studyin' the other nite. We all do this. There has been many a person led to a better life by settin' an' lookin' in the fire an' studyin' about his past life.

There was a one person over to see me the other nite to talk against the new school building but the got miffy could comfort. It vexes me to see anybody argue that two and two ain't four.

LOCALETS

The New York Cash Store leads in low prices. Somebody please tell us what has become of Spand Unify. J. R. Roach, the jeweler. Room 3 over the Bank. W. H. Quinn is quite sick of typhoid fever. Aunt Eliza Jane Skillen has been very low but is better. Go to Mrs. J. T. Vison for new and up to date millinery. It seems that the weather man has gone into the good roads business. Miss Emma Long is visiting relatives in Rochester and other places. Eggs 30 cents per dozen. New York Cash Store. Mrs. H. B. Tanner is visiting in Evansville this week. W. A. Kelley is in Evansville this week buying his holiday goods. J. T. Vison is in Louisville this week buying goods for his stores. Remember the protracted meeting begins next Sunday at Baptist church. Uncle Lou Bunch, of Rochester, was on the streets Monday. Take your eggs to the New York Cash Store. 20 cents per dozen. Dr. J. O. Carson, of Bowling Green, Ky., was in town first of the week. Save money boys Christmas is coming. Everything in the grocery line new and fresh at J. A. Howard's. Mrs. Maude Whalin is selling out her millinery goods at cost. Mrs. Jno. M. Carson has been on the sick list but is improving. Take your sick watches or clocks to J. R. Roach, the jeweler. Room 3 over the Bank. R. T. Smith contemplates visiting friends in Evansville during the holidays. Miss Earnest Hunch, of Rochester, is visiting friends and relatives in our town this week. All Gardner and wife, of Wood, Ky., were visiting his brother W. R. Gardner last week. Mrs. Basham and Miss Musie Spack, of Warren county, visited Rev. Perryman's family first of the week. Go to J. R. Roach, the jeweler, if you have your eyes tested and glasses fitted to your eyes. Why go West or East or North or South? Come to Morgantown and grow up with the town. Clifton J. Pratt may be a little lonesome but he will be Attorney General all the same. The whitest frost of the season covered the face of the earth Tuesday morning. There are too many walking blind tigers that can see just a little in this old town. Mr. Tiger do you hear? Judge Hub E. Rives has rendered us valuable reporterial favors this week. Hub is a born newspaper man. R. G. Brown, of Herschel, called in our office last Monday and renewed his subscription. Quite a crowd of white people attended the colored meeting last Sunday night. J. D. Tanner, who has been conducting the song service for Rev. Jarnigan's protracted meeting in Ohio county, has returned home. The young folks of Rochester give an amateur play at that place tonight for church benefit. A number of our young people are going down. Now, don't pop up and say you are "right" the school building before you know anything about the proposition. It may be better than you think it is. This is Thanksgiving day. A fellow can give thanks a great deal better on a full stomach. Fry your subscription early this morning. Our next jailer, John W. Fritwell, was in town last week delivering his annual sale of fruit trees in this community. The colored revival conducted by woman preacher Mrs. Rastiff, of Louisville, closed last Tuesday evening. CORRECTION: D. T. Foster's sale is on Tuesday, Dec. 5, instead of Nov. 28, as was stated through mistake in our columns last week. The colored revival conducted by woman preacher Mrs. Rastiff, of Louisville, closed last Tuesday evening. Dr. J. O. Carson, of Bowling Green, and Supl. W. O. Belcher, have been making some famous bird hunts this week, bagging a large number each day. Arrangements are being made by boarding houses and others for the spring term of the Morgantown Seminary which promises to be made up of the best state of students ever entering our school.

Give thanks today. X. Howard has opened up a shoe shop up stairs F. O. Building. The mills and factories of Morgantown are running on full time. J. A. Howard will give 90 cents cash or $1.00 in goods per bushel for stock peas. The new school building is popular with all who understand the proposition. J. D. Baugh, of Rochester was in town last Monday arranging with a few to moving to our town. Welcome Mr. Baugh. Miss Josephine Long, of Rochester, the accomplished daughter of Col. Fred Long, has been the guest of Miss Della Turner. The Ladies' Missionary Society met last Saturday evening and passed appropriate resolutions in regard to the death of Mrs. Belle Helm. Boys, be gentlemen through the coming holidays and it will be worth a great deal more to you than all the enjoyment you will get out of disapproval and rowdiness. R. D. Forsythe bought the blacksmith shop at G. B. Paalp's sale last Monday. A. T. Dockett, bought the vacant lot adjoining. Consideration for shop $800 and lot $187. When we get the college building Morgantown will need a laundry, a tailor, a restaurant, a bakery. Then will follow water works, cannery factory and a new brick hotel. The streets of Morgantown are daily crowded with loaded wagons, of coal, lumber, building material, produce, etc. and still there are those who wear long faces and say we are on the down grade. COW-Strayed from Auburn, Ky., black and white spotted, holstein stock, shorn. Reasonable reward for any information concerning her, whereabouts or return. Was seen across Gasper river on Nov. 16, left Auburn Nov. 16th. H. F. BKAN, M. D. It is worthy of consideration, that the three schools with which our present principal has been connected, have during his stay with each been compelled, for the first time in the history of the school, to turn away students for lack of seating room. Good Keeping apples taken on subscription at this office at highest market price. Bring us a barrel and a half or two bushels and get the Republic and the Louisville Commercial one year. There are two things for which a young man can afford to go in debt, viz: Good real estate and a good education. Just now it will pay to invest in education, and no school offers as much for the money as Morgantown Seminary. Go to Mrs. Maude Whalin's and get anything you need in millinery goods. She is now selling at cost. Some nice things in hats caps &c., for sale. The protracted meeting at Speeds Chapel continues with increased interest. Rev. J. B. Perryman, the pastor, has been doing some excellent work assisted by Rev. Dowell, Gardner and others. They also have the assistance of an excellent vocalist Mr. Adcock, of Crittendon county, who conducts the song service. Coffee Social. There will be a coffee social at the residence of Mrs. A. A. Main to-night (Thursday) after the services at church are over. The proceeds of the social are for the benefit of the Presbyterian church. A COFFIN AND SLASHIN'. Subscribers whose time has expired must come in or send in at once. We must know what we are doing. There's going to be a mighty cutting and slashing on our subscription book one day soon. Report at once if you want to receive the paper any longer. TURKEY DAY. Monday Dec. 23, is Turkey Day. J. T. Rives, will turn 10 turkeys from the top of the court house or some other high building in town, and the man catching them has them for his own. Here is your chance. Come and get your Christmas Turkey and see the fun. Record Breakers. Far from the madding crowd's ignominious stripe ye editor and ye ex-editor, Erill Noel, will break the record as birding. They will take in the sombre fields and brakes of Sandy bottoms via Pipe Springs and purpose to bag more birds than any other two creek shots of the season in the same time. Their day's shot will be placed on sale at the various grocery stores in town, and the price of birds will drop several points in the market.

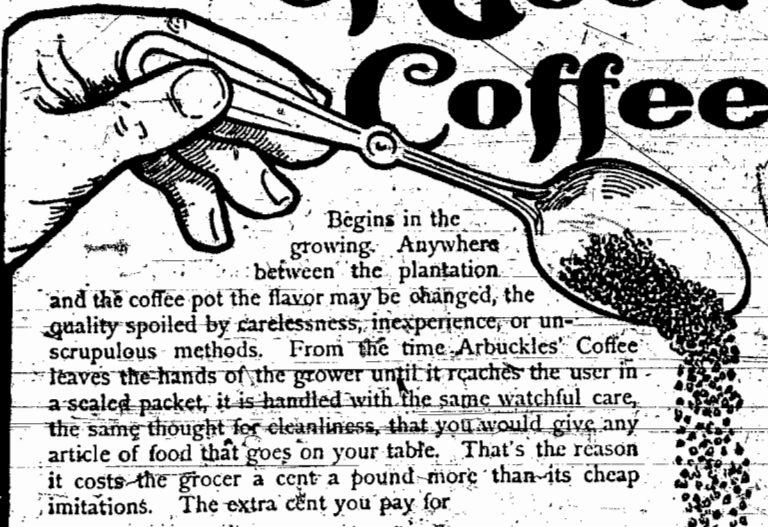

RESOLUTIONS Of Respect Passed on the Death of Mrs. W. A. Helm. The union Sunday school and the Ladies Missionary Society of this place adopted the following resolutions on the death of Mrs. Belle Helm, who was an active and valuable member of each organization. Whereas, on Nov. 19, 1901, God in his allwise providence called from our midst Mrs. W. A. Helm one of our most beloved teachers, therefore be it resolved: FIRST. That we the officers, teachers and pupils of the union Sunday school, recognizing the irreparable loss we have sustained in so valuable a member and noble teacher, hereby express our sympathy. In her death the church (the Cumberland Presbyterian) has lost one of her most devoted members, the Sunday school a faithful teacher and the community an exemplary christian light. Her heart was thoroughly in her work and she was always prompt and attentive to her class. SECOND. Be it further resolved that we extend to the bereaved husband our sympathy in the loss of so dutiful a companion, and her dear children in the loss of a loving mother. In her behalf we are compelled to say that she was always kind, cheerful and happy and wherever she went she carried sunshine and gladness and because of these noble virtues she was beloved and respected by all who knew her. THIRD. It is also further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be furnished our county paper and the Cumberland Presbyterian for publication and that they be spread upon the minutes of our Sunday school. Jno. M. Carson, Supt. Miss Alma Noel, Sec'y. L. A. French, Treas. J. D. Tanner. Mrs. J. A. Tanner. Dr. A. E. Gardner. Prof. J. E. Turner. Mrs. G. C. Turner. Mrs. J. M. Carson. Miss Mary Cherry. Prof. D. A. Kelley. Teachers. Morgantown, Ky., Nov. 24, 1901. RESOLUTIONS OF LADIES' MISSIONARY SOCIETY. Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has severed from our midst our dear President Mrs. Belle Helm, who departed this life Nov. 19th 1901. We the members of the Ladies Missionary Society tender the following resolutions: FIRST. Be it resolved that we the members of this society, not only we as her co-workers in this grand cause, but as all who know her will ever remember her helping hand as will also those in foreign lands to whom through this work she was trying to teach the beautiful Christ life. SECOND. Be it resolved that we the members, while realizing the great loss of her departure humbly bow to the divine will of Him who hath said, "Come ye blessed to my right." THIRD. Be it resolved that we in a body tender our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family asking them to remember that "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh." FOURTH. Be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be presented to Mr. W. A. Helm husband of our dear departed President. Helen Ward. Dale Rives. Noka Miller. Committee. Resolutions of Respect Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Be it resolved, that we the members of the Ladies Missionary Society, of Morgantown, Ky., do this day the 23rd of Nov. 1901, tender the following resolutions on the death of our beloved charter member, aunt Elizabeth Moore having departed this life June 22nd 1901. SECOND. Be it resolved that we while deeply and grievously feeling the absence of the dear kind face and the ever willing hand feel that the influence of her work like eternity will go on forever. THIRD. Be it resolved that every member of this society remember the beautiful faithful life that has gone from us and that we in our daily life emulate the footsteps of our departed one. FOURTH. Be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be presented to each member of her family. Helen Ward. Dale Rives. Noka Miller. Committee. Judge E. Noel is packing his household and kitchen furniture preparatory to leaving for Belling county where he will go into business and make his future home. BANNER SALVE The most perfect salve in the world.

A REUNION A Joyful Occasion in the Near Future. LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING. We are reminded that a big family reunion of the many western wanderers should be held at some suitable date next fall at which time the fatted calf should be slain and the big pot put in the little one. By that time it is hoped that our many parting citizens will have been convalescent of the roaring fever and will have dried of the sandstorms, the grasshoppers and the bug that the swine eat in the woolly West and will have turned their faces homeward saying, "In my father's house are many mansions, I will go home and get one more good drink out of the old spring. The Old Kentucky Home is good enough for me." THE PROGRAM. The program of exercises for that occasion will be about as follows: Welcome Address, J. D. Renter. Response, W. O. Belcher. The Woolly West, W. A. Borah. No More to Rom, McClain Taylor. The Old Kentucky Home, H. N. Whalls. Sent Storms, H. H. Haas. Grass Hoppers, F. H. Guch, Kent Ward. Ballard County, Elwood Noel. Home Again, Jay Isahy. Music by Orchestra. Balance All Contributions. November Nuptials. Marriage license were issued to the following persons during this month. Jas. E. Houting to Mary Liza Burden. J. French Kelley to Bill Phelps. Jake Nugent to Maggie Harrison. Eddie King to Julia Flowers. Albert Embry to Mary E. Byers. E. V. Cole to Antna Cole. Estill P. James to Lucy E. James. F. L. Hays to Bertie Hooper. The kind of a paper we propose to publish is going to cost us something and we hope will be worth something to the subscribers, hence we cannot send the paper to Dick Tom and Harry without the cash, or without some understanding. You may live some distance from town and may not be coming this way soon but you don't live far from a post office and it won't take but two cents stamp to send us your dollar bill or tell us something about it. Let us understand each other. This thing of running a good newspaper is no joke. It is serious business and it takes cash as well as compliments to do it. BAD FIRE. Large Stock Barn of C. Neel Burned. LOSS PROBABLY $2,000. On last Saturday morning the large barn of C. Neel, lying across the river from town, was burned to the ground together with 200 barrels of coal and a lot of other feed stuff, two valuable milch cows and a buggy and harness, new wagon and various other farm implements of value. The origin of the fire is unknown but is thought by some to be a deed of incendiary. It is said that trucks were seen around the barn the next morning and traced to the streets of our town where they were lost. We are not informed whether suspicious points to any certain one or not but every effort will be made to ferret out the guilty one if possible. The loss is estimated at $2,000. No insurance. The Making of Good Coffee

Begins in the growing. Anywhere between the plantation and the coffee pot the flavor may be changed, the quality spoiled by carelessness, inexperience, or unscrupulous methods. From the time Arbuckles' Coffee leaves the hands of the grower until it reaches the user in a sealed packet, it is handled with the same watchful care, the same thought for cleanliness, that you would give any article of food that goes on your table. That's the reason it costs the grocer a cent a pound more than its cheap imitations. The extra cent you pay for buys much more than a cent's worth of quality and strength. A pound of Arbuckles' Coffee will give you more cupsful of better coffee than you would get from other package coffees.

Be sure you get Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. Other package coffees are but imitations of Arbuckles'. In each pound package of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee there is a small package of Arbuckles' Coffee. If you have bought a package of some article to be used by you or by others from this list, subject only to the condition that the nature of the package is to be cut out and returned to our factory. You should see this list. Address all communications to ARBUCKLE BROS., NEW YORK CITY, N.Y.

FOWL FROM THE MOON

FUN COLUMN

By Mr. Funnyman Editor.

Engages in Battle With an Indiana Farmer

Indianapolis, Nov. 21.—Elias Peabody, who lives in the north part of Madison county, had a terrible tussle the other night with either a strange visitor from the moon, or else James Whitcomb Riley's "Crack o' doom" bird that he tamed loose in Madison county in 1877, when he was local editor of the Anderson Democrat. Peabody was aroused from his dreams by something falling heavily on his roof and the thump was followed by scurrying footsteps.

He jumped out of bed and grabbed his gun. In the moonlight he saw the strangest kind of a thing. He lowered his gun and went out to meet it. Though he cried "Shoot" as hard as he could, he says the thing came straight at him and when it came in to close range Peabody grabbed it around the neck. The visitor demonstrated in a moment to Peabody's mind that it was not a member of the goose family, it threw a few kinks out of its neck and then shot out both of its long legs, landing on Peabody's head with a force as great as a ton.

Peabody says he grabbed it again and caught it by the legs, whereupon the bird set its wings into motion and said him out again. Peabody was game, however, and succeeded at last in getting it into a corn crib, where he locked it up with morose.

When he inspected the bird in daylight he saw it was indeed strange. Its legs were large and short, and its feet were not webbed. It had a jet-black head and large white eyes, while its feathers were snow-white and very coarse. When Peabody pecked through a crack at the door it was walking up and down the floor, turning its large head in every direction, while its eyes blinked peculiarly. Peabody opened the door, and when he did so the bird walked slowly towards him. He permitted it to pass on and it did not show any signs of flying away. In the hallway it is a small pool. The bird walked into the water and then burst out in surprise as though water was entirely a new thing to it. It waddled against the side of the bath and into the fence, yet it is not blind.

Peabody supposes that it came from the moon.

Three Quarters of a Century.

For seventy-five years The Youth's Companion has been published every week as a family paper. In these seventy-five years the paper's consistency to a high standard has won the confidence of the American people. It has kept pace with the growth of the country. Its stories, its special articles, its editorials, its selections, represent all that is best in American life. For 1902 the foremost men and women of the English-speaking world have been enlisted as contributors. The work of an unprecedented number of new and promising writers has also been secured. Thus the constantly increasing demand for the best reading suited to all members of the intelligent American household will be fully met.

A twenty-eight-page prospectus of the 1902 volume and sample copies of the paper will be sent free to any address. Those who subscribe at once sending $1.75, will receive all the issues for the coming weeks of 1902 free from the time of subscription; also the Companion Calendar for 1902 illustrated in twelve colors and gold.

Bradley the Leader. (The Free Press)

All the old-line Republicans will rejoice to see Gov. Bradley "dig" Ernst and Vincent Boreing once more welcome visitors and trusted counselors at the white house. And it is particularly gratifying to know that President Roosevelt will not recognize any factions in Kentucky. That's where Mr. Hanna erred on behalf of President McKinley. The situation now is this: All Republicans are in favor of fair treatment and all of them will be in a good humor. The Ohio Combs and John Yerkes are all right; they are bright and elegant, but they are not Bradley's equals in politics and they never will be. Every Republican is glad to see them in good offices, but when it comes to leadership the party has to have Bradley. As it has been said, "Bradley is hard to get along with sometimes, but he is a longer sight leader in get along without."

At a meeting of a prominent club recently held in our town, the following refreshments were served in course as follows.

Fried toast stools with strychnine leaves, baked omelet garnished with green sea moss. Snake on toast. Ericsson fly wings. Robert skunk soup flavored with palons. Music by polly parrot band. Mixed drinks of bug juice and aloes. Green flies cooked with gall. Posioned snake eggs. Toad spawn. Raw scroonile eyes. Hard crust as just. Toast by six baboons. Fogies Grahndstra.

"If I should steal a kiss from you Pray, pretty maid what would you do?" With eyelids dropped she murmured: "Well, Until you do how can I tell?"

Some go to church to weep, while others go to sleep. Some go to ease their woes, others go to show to their clothes. Some go to hear the preacher, other, like the solo screecher. Boys go to moonlight, girls go because they oughter. Many go for reflection, precious few to help collection.—Ex.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

His Life and Work, by the Memorial Publishing Association.

We have made clubbing arrangements with the Chicago Inter Ocean for the sale with that paper and ours of one of the best memorial volumes issued containing the life of our late lamented President, William McKinley. The writer of the same was a life long friend of his, a comrade in arms, his associate in progress, was by his side before he closed his eyes in death and attended the funeral obsequies at Buffalo, Washington and Canton, Ohio.

The Inter Ocean has secured this work which makes a good sized octavo volume 6 1/2x10 inches, containing nearly 600 pages of matter and fully illustrated with nearly 300 copperplate pictures all printed on the best book paper and bound in a most substantial manner in finely illustrated and embossed cover of cloth.

As stated above, we had several memorial volumes presented to us and made the selection of this one from the entire list. It is the determination of this paper to give its readers the best the market affords.

We have made arrangements with the Inter Ocean to club the same with our paper and the volume can be secured by our readers in addition to the clubbing rate, at the nominal price of 75 cents, and 22 cents additional for postage. The volume will sell in any book store readily for $1.50 a copy.

Send us your order at once, before the edition is exhausted.

Lost No Hogs.

An Illinois farmer who raises about 200 hogs a year, says he has lost none in ten or twelve years from cholera, while they have died all around him. He thinks the disease is started by too many worms in the intestines, particularly in the small ones. He fills a barrel with water and white shelled or ear corn, then adds half a box of lye and allows it to soak over night, enough lye is used to turn the corn as yellow as yellow corn. The hogs are fed all they will eat of it for two or three days. He starts feeding them as soon as any of the hogs begin to cough.—Live Stock Inspector.

WHAT THE INTER OCEAN OFFERS

Good News for Subscribers to Green River Republican and the Weekly Inter Ocean Combined.

Never before in the history of news papers has so liberal an opportunity been afforded the public to participate in a gift distribution of such tremendous size as the one which this paper is now able to present to its readers through an arrangement recently completed with the Weekly Inter Ocean of Chicago.

In the advertising columns of this issue we print a proposition pertaining to the matter in reference and we most strongly advise all our readers carefully to peruse same.

Every word in that announcement is sincere, every assertion is honest, every representation is truthful in every particular.

Lack of space compels us to bill down the details as much as possible, but we have in one hand a large supply of the explanatory papers connected with the proposition, which were furnished us by our co-operator in this big deal.—The Weekly Inter Ocean—and these we shall be pleased to distribute among those who may become interest.
